Dedication

To

MR. C. B. McLINN

Our new Superintendent of Public Schools—a man whom New Albany is proud to claim as a true citizen—a man whom all students recognize as a friend and advisor, we, the Senior Class of 1936, respectfully dedicate our yearbook.

Doris Whittinghill

We measure values in different ways, and some values we cannot measure at all.

If we should use a money standard, I might call you a Million Dollar Class, for that amount represents the probable investment in you by your parents, your school, and other social agencies.

But you, a group of fine young people, are a value that money cannot measure. You are the promise of the future, the guarantee of the survival of the social order, the builders of homes, the pioneers, perhaps, of a new frontier.

Your graduation is a time of deep feeling—a thrill of achievement, regret at the break in close associations, hope and hesitancy for your future.

But change and growth is the law of life. The present is but one stage in your life-long growing. I hope that at the end of each successive period, loving hands may be stretched toward you, and kindly voices may greet you, as now at your graduation.

I am sorry that you go before you and I could know one another better. I wish that I might have shared more intimately with you your hopes and your doubts, your ambitions and your plans, for nothing on earth is so refreshing as the promise of young life.

Your friend with all good wishes,

Charles B. McLinn.

FOREWORD

Amid the turmoil of today
We pause to view the past.
Caught here within these pages
Are reflections that it cast.
Deep-mirrored are youth's vibrant joys,
Its vivid hopes, ideals.
Illuminated are the thoughts
A veil of years conceals.
As a deep shadowed pool has caught
The image of the skies,
This book has chained a bit of Time
That all too swiftly flies.

A MESSAGE TO THE GRADUATING SENIORS

We have placed upon you the honor of being New Albany Senior High School's representatives in that class of individuals known as secondary school graduates. We hope that your presence with the school for the time spent here makes you worthy of that honor.

We hope for your success in life, and that you exemplify those ideals for which American High Schools stand, namely: (1) knowledge and control of your physical well being: (2) high ideals in the requirements and practice of Citizenship; (3) a command of the fundamental processes of learning; (4) a desire to follow and be successful in a worthwhile livelihood; (5) a deeper insight into the knowledge of American home life and a desire to make it universally better; (6) knowledge of how best to use the leisure time you have; and last, but not least, (7) ideals of a noble character, with stamina necessary to persevere in your ideals.

As we bid you God-speed, we give you our best wishes for a useful life.

C. C. KATTERJOHN.

TO THE CLASS OF 1936

Now is the testing time of your high courage, in these days of unrest and apparently lessened opportunities for youth. Move toward your ideals, and you will reach your goal, and give back to the world much it has lost. May you have the key that will open unto you the "abundant life" which is more satisfying and valuable than riches.

Board of Education,

Mary E. Clark, President.

HIGH SCHOOL SONG

(Tune: Cornell Alma Mater)

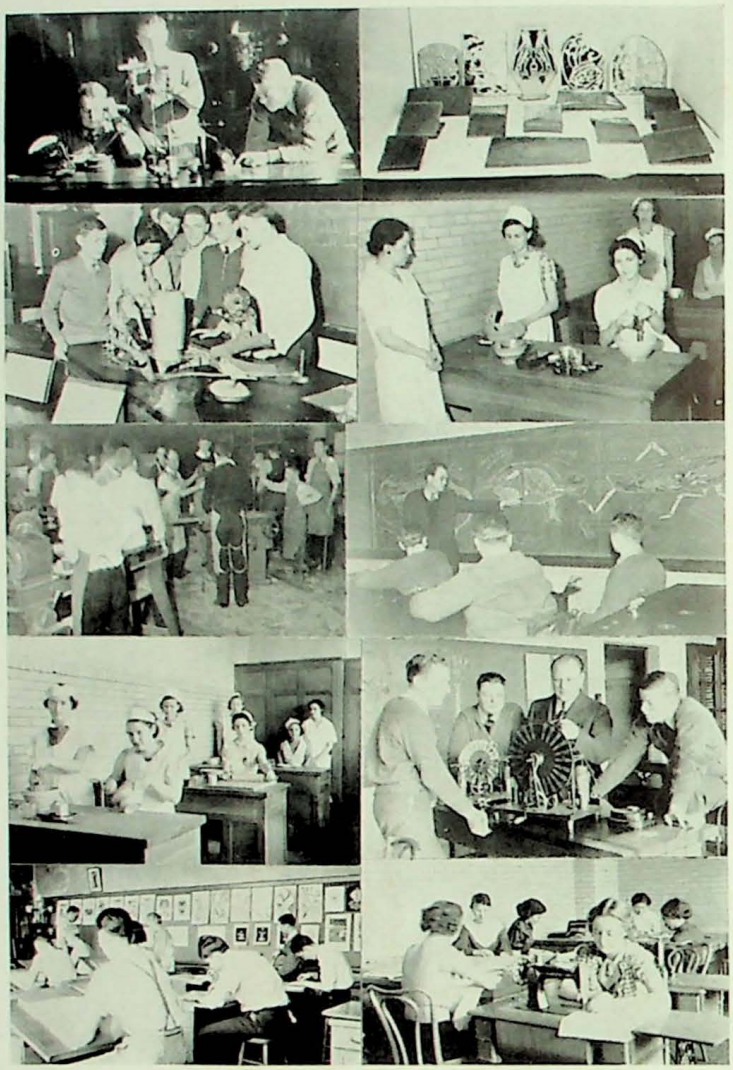
Here's to her whose name we'll ever
Cherish in our song,
Dear Old High School, Dear Old High School,
Praise to her belong.

Chorus:
Gloriana, Frangipana, here's to her success,
We to her e'er be faithful,
Hail N. A. H. S.

Seniors, Juniors, Sophs and Freshmen,
All together stay,
On to victory, on to victory,
We will win the day.

Honor to the Black and Crimson,
Banner held so dear,
It will lead us to our triumph,
Cheer, Old High School, cheer.

SOPHOMORE B



CLASSROOM SCENES

1. Scene in Mr. Finley's physics class, telegraphing a message. Is it a secret, boys?
2. Hoo-hoo-Who has the greatest lung capacity? That's what these boys in Mr. Townsend's biology class are trying to discover. The owl that is looking so wise is just one of the Taxidermist Club's stuffed specimens.
3. Buzz, whirr! We can't see what they're making but Mr. Daffern's metal working students are much too absorbed in their work to notice the photographer or camera.
4. We always thought that rolling pins were used to subdue unruly husbands, but these girls in Miss Doyle's cooking class use little force and much technique to turn out tasty pie crusts.
5. Art students designing block prints for the Annual.

Organizing very soon after the beginning of school under the direction of Lewis Allen, the Art Club initiated and entertained new members at a Camp Fire Party at Bertrand's camp.

Of exceptional interest was the exhibit of colorful Japanese prints which were brought from New York in October and displayed in the Art Room.

Hours and hours of work were required in the making of the calendars, which consisted of views of the school done in block printing, but the proceeds from the sale of these calendars repaid the industrious artists for their labor.

The annually decorated Christmas tree and cellophane window in the auditorium added a festive holiday air to the December assemblies.

During much of the second semester, the club worked diligently on Japanese scenery for the operetta, "Maid in Japan," but on May 15, with operetta over, the members cast aside smocks and tams for formals and dress suits and attended their gala party which ended the semester activities.

For their first bit of entertainment the Bel Canto girls went caroling through the halls Friday before Christmas. They also sang carols for the Parent-Teachers on Monday before Christmas. The girls were dressed in choir robes, and each one held a lighted candle.

At mid-year graduation they sang several selections.

Fathers' Night at the Parent-Teachers they sang "Green Cathedral" and "Prayer Perfect." On Good Friday, they sang "In The Cross of Christ I Glory" and "Faith of Our Fathers."

Besides practicing for these different occasions, the Bel Canto girls were also engaged with several dances during the year.

The first dance was a Leap Year Dance at the Country Club where the couples danced to the strains of Park-Miles Orchestra. The idea of a leap year dance was enjoyed by most of the girls, but some of the boys didn't enjoy it when their girls were busy breaking other fellows.

After the dance the girls turned Japanese for the annual Operetta which was given on April 16 and 17.

The Big Event of the year was the Tea Dance which was given May 16 and, as this was not a Leap Year Dance, the boys were back in their rightful position of being able to choose their partners.

The Boys' Glee Club departed from custom to entertain with a dance at the New Albany Country Club, December 26, while the Park-Miles Orchestra played with their usual superbness. Not only the present membership attended, but also some of the former graduate members helped to compose a wholly satisfactory group. A "Glee Club Special" gave a unique twist to the evening and added to the enjoyment of everyone.

All business of the Glee Club was dropped at the beginning of this semester in order that it might favor full-time rehearsal of the Operetta.

After much hard work and faithful practice the Operetta was given on two nights, April 16 and 17. As the Operetta proved to be a great success the Club felt rewarded for its efforts.

This year's membership was much greater than that during any of the previous years.

Readin' and writin' and 'rithmetic were taught at "Miss Ima Neway's School" which was given in the vodvil on November 2. Dorothy Kiefner did very well, tripping and falling as Miss Ina Neway, with her misbehaving boys and girls.

Sally, of "Sally's Hatshop," presented for the students, could always please her customers whether she tried the hats on them frontwards, backwards or upside down.

As entertainment for the club meetings, many short skits were presented. Among those given were "Dog Tricks," "Social Climbing," and "Wire Trouble."

The Jesters gave a dance for their alumnae January 2 at the New Albany Country Club where decorations and spirits were in keeping with the Christmas season.

To close the activities for the year, Jesters held their annual picnic, May 21, at Kahler's camp.

JOURNALISM

FIRST SEMESTER

"Do you wanna take the Blotter?"

This was the hue and cry of the Journalism Class of 1935-36 as they, in order to obtain the required twenty subscriptions, harried their fellow students until they subscribed in self-defense.

The customary exhibition in the front hall helped to speed the sales. The first semester students used a wheel-barrow race, in which the teachers, decked in hair ribbons, side-burns, and safety pins, balancing precariously on tiny veneer wheel-barrows, sped across the poster to see which would be the first to reach "Langs" or the 100% mark.

A large horn, in which the teachers represented musical notes, was the device employed at the beginning of the second semester. Though each teacher started at the "little end of the horn," after much "Going 'round and 'round," several of them finally "came out here" with a perfect score.

After about a week of bewilderment, wondering what it was all about, the Journalists, learning that the dummy was not just the other fellow, began the business of publishing the Blotter.

They early displayed their skill by accumulating honors in the Quill and Scroll Contests. In the first one, William Hedden received honorable mention for news judgment; John Higgins, for his knowledge of current events; and William Day, for an editorial on "1936 Olympics."

JOURNALISM

SECOND SEMESTER

In the Second Group Contest held in January, Bill Hedden received honorable mention in the Current News test, while headlines, written by John Higgins, and a sports story by Bob Forste received the same rating.

On October 17 and 18, three members of the class, along with two non-members, attended the Annual Conference for the Indiana High School Press Association at Butler College. Here, after attending lectures on the many phases of Journalism, they were guests at the football game played during their stay.

John Higgins, Martha Parrish, Bill Day, Mary June Montgomery, Martha Jean Bunger, and Miss Huntsinger composed the delegation.

In the pep session given by the class before the Thanksgiving Day Game, the girls represented the New Albany Bulldogs. By their excellent "passing" of a handkerchief just in the nick of time, they sent the Bosse team tumbling into a "huddle" and tripped away with the victory.

A larger number of the class was represented at the convention at Butler College in April where they again attended lectures covering the field of Journalism. The eight representatives who journeyed to this convention were Mildred Horsey, Doris Brown, Ferd Wrege, Bill Day, Joe Gohmann, Frank Berlin, Kathleen McGuire, and Julia Buchheister.

After a long engagement, Shirley Victory, (Margie Stewart-to-you) was wedded in due style to N. A. H. S. in the pep session given by the Minerva Club on November 15, before the St. Xavier—New Albany game.

The bride clad in white, the groom in "white tie and tails," and the bridesmaids arrayed in trailing gowns, presented a colorful spectacle as they marched sedately to the altar which consisted of draped goal posts, topped with candlesticks.

At Christmas, members of the club dispersed Christmas cheer in the form of baskets of food to many needy families.

Not wishing to pass up leap year's opportunities, the Minerva girls held a Leap Year Calico Dance at the Colonial Club, April 4

But with the basketball season over and no more candy to sell, Minerva members turned their attention to preparation for their annual formal Dinner Dance and a camping trip which ended a successful season for the club.

Each basketball game found the club members conducting a stand in the hall for the purpose of raising money for a scholarship fund.

The fact that one girl was willing to pay to "scrape the pans," is ample evidence that their candy sales were a success.

The annual Sodalitas Latina pep session was again heralded as one of the best ever given. In keeping up with current events the Club presented "The Victory of the Roman Bulldog Legions" over their Ethiopian foes. The whole basketball team, attired in togas, reclined on Roman couches and ate Roman food. The background was an elaborate display of color, bright with pallae trimmed in gold and silver, Roman pillows, living statues, slaves bearing gold wine bowls and gold goblets. Mussolini was the host to his victorious New Albany Legions and entertained much to the chagrin of the captured and defeated Haile Selassie "St. X." warriors, by ordering them to dance, sing, and amuse his guests. Haile Selassie, mounted on an elephant, led the line of captive Ethiopians amid the howling cheers of the spectators. Barry Tunnison as a Greek dancing girl was very effective.

Instead of the usual Saturnalia the social event of the first semester was the initiation party. After the initiates had been subjected to all the terrors of the Underworld, as Virgil has depicted it, they were royally entertained by the members. After the feast the principal feature of the program was the presentation of a play, "Pyramus and Thisbe," from Mid-Summer Night's Dream in which all the parts, even that of the lovely Thisbe, were taken by boys.

At the close of the year a gay and unusually colorful dance was given at the Colonial Club, where the guests arrived clad in Roman costumes and bowing felicitations to one another in true Roman fashion. A bright and clever floor show added to the merriment of the members and their guests. This dance concluded a brightly successful year for Sodalitas Latina.

Out of a chaos of potatoes, onions, beans, and what-have-you, members of the Speaker Club finally produced over 160 baskets of food which they, with the help of the Wranglers, delivered to needy families.

With Mildred Horsey, Clyde Bryant, Paul Haynes, and Frances Ratliff composing the MacAllister household in the Speaker Christmas play, "Grandma's Christmas," there should have been an ideal celebration; but it took Magdalene Deuser as "Grandma," with her big, bouncing surprise, "Rod Page," in the person of Jeff Streepey, to make a Christmas celebration that just suited Grandma, as well as the students.

Perhaps the gifts distributed by the Speaker Santa Claus were not so useful as they might have been—at least, the boy who received pink combs was never seen to wear them, but the annual activity never fails to furnish entertainment, even to the seniors.

The defeating of the Red Devils by the Bulldogs was decidedly more complicated than the combat in the Speaker pep session in which Sir Jeffrey Front de Bluff (Jeff to you) was vanquished by the gallant Sir N. A. H. S. Nevertheless, the feat represented a week's preparation in the way of cutting, fitting, and riveting cardboard armor for all the bold (?) knights who participated in the tourney.

Mary Murphy, choosing "Neutrality" as her topic, and Magadeline Deuser, "The Homestead Act," entered the Wrangler Cup Contest.

While they were diligently preparing their speeches, the rest of the members planned the Annual Speaker Dinner which was given at the Country Club, April 18.

School was barely dismissed before the girls, cramming their belongings into bags, left for Hilltop Camp where they spent a week of very light housekeeping, and heavy outdoor exercises.

The purpose of the S. R. S. is to promote an interest in science. By visiting plants of scientific interest and conducting talks we feel that we have met our aim.

The past year the club members enjoyed going through such plants as the Ford Motors Plant in Louisville, The Axton Fisher Tobacco Plant, Falls City Brewery, Colgate Soap Plant in Jeffersonville, and the Corydon Glass Works.

To become a member one must have attained above average in his Scientific studies the preceding semester and must deliver a talk on any scientific matter, also a rigid initiation must be taken.

The annual social affair was a dance held at the Country Club where faculty members enjoyed themselves as well as the club members. Other minor activities such as hikes and parties were held during the year.

Regular club meetings were held on Thursdays after school. At the meetings scientific matters were discussed and experiments were performed. Occasionally talks by the club members were made. At each meeting there was a large turn-out, and in the future we hope the club will be as big a success as it has been this year.

"Skinning a pigeon" is certainly not an easy task, yet in spite of the fact that this is one of the requisites of becoming a Taxidermist member, the Club has been steadily increasing in size since its organization in 1934.

Instead of the "cold-packed," slimy snakes, frogs, and tape worms that are usually arrayed in Biology laboratories, the Taxidermists have captured a bit of the outdoors and brought it into the class room.

Mounted birds, including a sparrow, hawk, screech owl, and starling, decorate the walls; while a mounted rabbit that occupies a place in the window looks so natural that the Taxidermists would not be at all surprised to see it nibble a bite from the sodden carrot that it grasps between its paws.

The original aim of the club was to establish a veritable museum in the biology room; but deciding that some space must be left for the students, Mr. Townsend has included the study of plant and animal classification in his Taxidermist projects.

After a pent-up winter, even though they had some difficulty in getting up on time, the members enjoyed the early morning hikes sponsored by the club during the spring.

The trees which were planted on the campus during the semester by members of the club will add to the beauty of the school.

With the cooperation of Mr. Townsend, Carl Basham was the main spring on the stuffing of animals this year.

The purpose of the Tri-Bi Club is to encourage high scholarship in Commercial subjects. Membership is on a scholarship basis of B in Bookkeeping.

But the Tri-Bi members do not always have checks and balances on their minds. During the candy sales at basketball games, they threw chewing-gum, candy, lollipops, and soft drinks to their customers across the tables and also did a little cheering on the side.

The proceeds from these candy sales are used to finance students at State Commercial Contests.

The members had a hilarious time at their "Scavenger Hunt."

They enjoyed initiating new members. Three business plays were given to teach business principles. Juanita Coombs, Aileen Kelso, and Mary Wilson presented "Prospects"; Violet McCaffrey, Robert Donahue, and Edward Rouch gave "Sign on the Dotted Line"; and Naomi Landis, Robert Donahue, Melvin Weber, and Culvin Reas played in "Business in 2036."

The Speakers won it the first two years, and the Wranglers the third and fourth. The Contest was held Tuesday afternoon April 7, before the students. Entrants and their subjects are as follows: Magdalene Deuser, "The Resettlement Administration"; and Mary Murphy, "Neutrality" for the Speakers Club, John Higgins, "Socialized Medicine"; William Hedden, "Government Efficiency"; John Flocken, "Reforms in State and Local Government"; Clarence Faulkenberg, "Judicial Reforms"; and James Strother, "The League of Nations," representing the Wrangler Club. There were no independents to enter.

The Rotary Contest, an oratorical contest in which the subjects deals with the purposes of Rotary, was entered by Clyde Bryant, John Higgins, William Hedden, John Croxall, David Hedden, and Jefferson Streepey. SCHOLARSHIP "N"

The establishment of awarding Scholarship "N's" in New Albany Senior High School has done much for the recognition of pupils of high mental attainments. It has stimulated those who had ability and because of lack of recognition were indifferent to their high school studies.

While New Albany Senior High School does not belong to the National Scholarship Society of Secondary Schools, all of the pupils who wear the Scholarship "N" would be members of this society, because our qualifications are high enough.

From the group of people, who have won Scholarship "N's", largely come the students, who are awarded scholarships in colleges and universities from our school. From this group, also, have come the individuals, who have established good records at various colleges and universities. The interest of this group has been centered upon high standards of mental attainments, wherever they may be. On the whole—they have not necessarily been the bookworms, but pupils who have carried on the major activities in our high school. Among these are members and officers of the Student Council, members in club activities. The presentation of Scholarship "N's" was established in 1930.

To gain this award a student must receive straight A's for a semester in four solid subjects or four A's and a B, if a fifth subject is taken.

After furnishing the yell leaders with nifty new uniforms, the Boosters, early in the semester, began a campaign to create more interest in sports and better sportsmanship.

It took more than a pouring rain to dampen their spirits as the members and a large group of students heralded the Thanksgiving game with a successful parade.

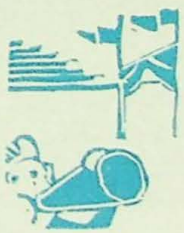
With autos draped in crepe paper and signs, and equipped with at least one red light, the Boosters paraded before the sectional and regional tournaments.

Several different schemes were carried out by the club in decorating the gym before the games. Shields representing each entrant, hung in the gym before the sectional, set the "stage" for an old English tourney.

After the victory in the regional tournament, the students of Mitchell, "saying it with flowers," presented Captain Bill Hubbard with a large basket of roses.

After much changing of hands, the bouquet ended up as butonnieres for each member of the team, and smaller bouquets for the two girl yell leaders.

The basket, the substantial part of the gift, now occupies a place of honor in the trophy case.



OPERETTA

Singing Japanese songs, toddling like Japanese people, Bel Canto and the Boys' Glee Club put on a very picturesque operetta entitled "Maid In Japan."

The heroine, Hanano, who was Kathryn Scanland, fell in love with Tom Long who was portrayed by Paul Haynes. Marilee Pritz was Peggie, and John Flocken was Bill Wood. These two fell in love while engaged strictly in business during their visit to Japan. Lototo, Mary Martha Kahler, was Hanano's nurse who had been with her since childhood.

OTHERS IN THE CAST WERE:

Juja	Dorothy Kiefner
Ishi	Aileen Lush
Nishida	Ruth Murphy
Prince Matsuo	Clarence Faulkenburg
Maneymon	Clinton Dempster
The Coolie	Earl Smith
Horohito	James Strother
Yatsubutsa	Charles Bush

The teachers who assisted in the production of the Operetta were: Music—B. C. Heckel, Chorus—Mrs. J. M. Beard, Costumes—Misses Genung, Doyle, and Widman, Scenery—Miss Homrighouse, Business—Miss Harper, Coach—Miss Green.

The scenery was a Japanese garden with, of course, the Oriental flowers in full bloom. A Buddha was also improvised for use on the stage.

Parent-Teacher Association

The Senior High School Parent-Teacher Association is a member of the local P.-T. A. Council, also a unit of the Indiana State and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

It is an organization of parents, teachers and other interested adults for the purpose of studying the home, school and community problems concerning the child.

Its goal is to form a home and school partnership, which will develop cooperation among the parents and afford them an opportunity to better understand the school system and its needs.

Also it will bring to the teachers the view-point of the home, thereby furnishing a necessary medium for unity of purpose in the education and welfare of all children.

Wrangler Debates

At the beginning of the debating season, the Wrangler Club sponsored two three-men teams. The Affirmative team consisted of John Higgins, Clarence Faulkenburg, and Paul Haynes. The Negative team consisted of William Hedden, John Flocken, and Jefferson Streepey.

The National High School Subject for debate was: "Resolved that the several states should enact legislation providing for complete medical aid for all persons at public expense."

The first debating tournament was that of the Falls Cities including Male High, St. Xavier, St. Francis Pro Seminary, and New Albany In this tournament New Albany won one and lost one to Male High; lost two to St. X; and won one, and lost one to St. Francis.

The second tournament was the State High School Debating League. The section for New Albany included North Vernon, Scottsburg, Madison, and New Albany. In this tournament, New Albany lost one debate to North Vernon but was successful in the other five. Perhaps the most significant thing about the year's debating was that the New Albany team never lost but one debate away from home and only one in which the judge was a recognized critic judge.

Altogether, the season was a very successful one.

John Higgins of the Affirmative team represented the Wrangler Club in the District Contest of the State High School Discussion League held at Madison, April 9, 1936, and won.

This Discussion League is sponsored by Indiana University, and the district of New Albany included Columbus, Seymour, North Vernon, Sellersburg, Pekin, Jeffersonville, Madison, and New Albany.

Short Story Contest

By "Speaking of Bugs and Budgets" Doris Whittinghill won the local Psi Iota Xi prize of $5 and the Province prize of $25 in the short story contest which is conducted yearly for Senior girls. Her short story was one of three which were entered in the State Contest.

Commercial Contest

In spite of the fact that there was a State Music Festival, a Journalism Convention, and a Speaker Dinner, all on the same day, the typing and shorthand teams went to Muncie, April 18, to take part in the State Contest.

Mr. Coffin got the "low-down" on the contest from a waitress in Greensburg who participated last year.

Early the next morning the entrants were taken to Ball State Teachers' College, where a crowd had already gathered to watch the contest.

Because two of the group wanted to attend the Speaker Dinner, the entrants left as soon as they had finished.

After almost a week's suspense, we discovered both the teams had placed 15th. In a contest where so many take part, that is a good showing. May next year's teams do still better!

Latin Contest

N. A. H. S. has the sixth best Latin student in the state! On April 4, Mona Alice East went to Bedford and participated in a District meet—which, naturally, she won. The state contest was held at Bloomington, Friday, April 17. The test, all written, required two and one half hours of work. It included translation, comprehension, vocabulary, and mythology. The results were announced at a victory banquet, which Mona Alice did not attend. She was notified later that she ranked sixth in the state in Division IV, in which eighteen students competed.

The Latin Contests are under the direction of the Extension Division of Indiana University.

Sportsmanship

To fight to win,
To lose, and grin,
That's sportsmanship

To fight the while
You lose, and smile,
That's sportsmanship.

Supt. McLinn awarded $1.50 to Mary Frances Murphy, a junior, for this definition of sportsmanship. The contest was open to all students of N. A. H. S. It was judged by the English teachers of the High School.

CLASS PLAY

The Seniors gave as their class play this year "Tommy," by Howard Lindsey and Bertrand Robinson. The coaches were Miss Naomi Kirk and Miss Thelma Huntsinger.

There were two casts, the parts played as follows:

Mrs. Thurber .....Gertrude Mueller and Dorothy Kiefner

FOOTBALL

Without a doubt the school year of 1935-36 was one of the most successful athletic years ever enjoyed by the New Albany High School. Never before has any high school made such rapid strides to state-wide recognition as did the great Bulldog teams of '35 and '36. The drawing power of the teams was so great that the whole town went sport minded and all previous attendance records for football and basketball games were broken.

The football team opened its season September 27, under the newly installed Mazdas at Buerk Field, with a smashing 38-0 victory over Columbus and continued their winning ways throughout the season winning eight of the nine games played, losing only to the strong Male High eleven of Louisville. This defeat was avenged, however, three weeks later when the Bulldogs romped over the highly touted St. Xavier Tigers 27-7, who had previously defeated Male. The season was brought to a close with a brilliant 26-0 victory over Bosse of Evansville, which clinched the Southern Indiana Athletic Conference title for the Locals.

A summary of the achievements of the team for the season would read somewhat as follows:

Played nine games against the strongest opposition that could possibly have been scheduled, and won eight of them.

Won the newly organized Southern Indiana Athletic Conference football championship with four victories and no defeats. Incidentally, these games were won by overwhelming scores.

Rated second best team in the state of Indiana, ranking second only to Reitz Memorial of Evansville whom the Bulldogs did not meet.

Captain Maurice Monihon was named all state halfback and Jim Zoeller and Jim Hardin received honorable mention for All State honors.

Captain Maurice Monihon and Jim Hardin were selected on the All Falls Cities team and Jim Zoeller, Jim Hardin, and Pete Timperman were placed on the second team.

Captain Monihon, and Zoeller, and Hardin were selected as All S. I. A. C. regulars.

Maurice Monihon, Captain, Left Half-Back

John Wrege, Full-Back

Kenneth Conlan, Right Half-Back

JEFFERSON STREEPY—Another stalwart on the defense who was kept in there until victory was certain. He was a smart, quick thinking player who could diagnose and stop an opponent's play before it reached the line of scrimmage.

EDDIE WELZ—Played a regular tackle position and although he was only a freshman he was one of the most efficient linesmen on the team. Eddie who had a knack of breaking through the opponent's line and stopping plays before they were even started was always at the right place at the right time.

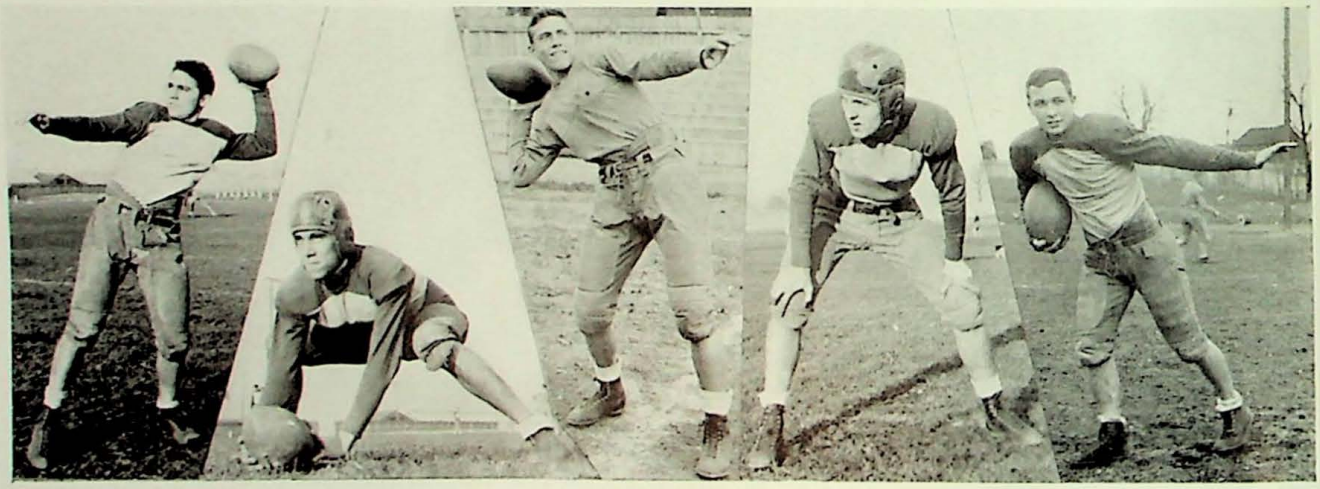
BILL HUBBARD—Who, is the only three sport man in school at the present time played an end position and was a clever, hard fighting ball player who was in there plugging every minute of every game.

HERMAN TIMPERMAN—Biggest man on the team and a Bearcat on defense. Pete played one of the tackle positions and was given honorable mention as all Falls Cities tackle. He will be back next year and should be better than ever with his year's experience.

EDWARD ZIER—Who played a blocking back position last year was converted into a guard this year to fit into the teams style of play. Ed was one of those fellows whose work was not visible to the fans in the stands but he did a noble job of helping take care of the center of the Bulldog line.

GENE ANCELOT—Although he was exceptionally light to play the center position of the line he was practically invincible as far as gaining ground through his position was concerned, and had the distinction of not making a bad pass all season. Gene is a Junior and will be back next year.

Bill Hubbard, Right-End



Jim Zoeller, Quarter-Back; Gene Ancelot, Center; Dave Zoeller, Back-Fielder; Russell Erganbright, End; Paul Bertrand, Wing-Back.

PAUL BERTRAND—Got his chance when captain Maurice Monihon suffered a slight brain concussion in the Princeton game. Fritz took over the ailing captain's halfback position for three games and came through in fine style, thrilling the customers with many brilliant long runs.

DAVE ZOELLER—General backfield handy man for the Bulldogs in 1935. Dave played in every position in the backfield and did all his chores in a convincing manner. He is expected to be a big gun for the Locals next season as he is a triple threat man and the only backfield letterman to return in 1936.

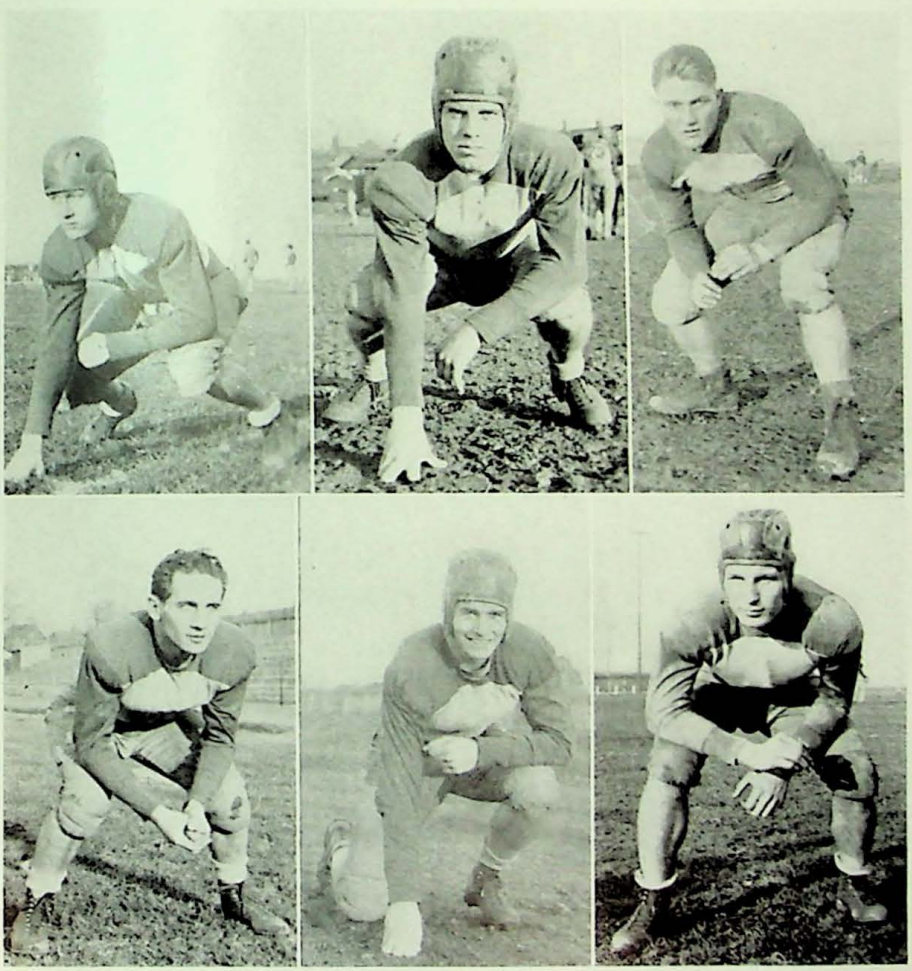
Captain-Elect JAMES HARDIN—Due to his playing and fine spirit Jim was elected to lead the Bulldogs in 1936. Despite the fact that Jim played an end position he pulled down enough passes to rank second in the individual scoring with forty-two points. He was selected as an All Falls Cities end and given honorable mention on All State and All Conference teams. Bunker is a Junior; this is his second year on the team.

JOHN WREGE—New Albany's human battering ram for the season of 1935 ranked third in the individual scoring with thirty-six points and was one of the hardest hitting backs to perform on a New Albany team in many a day.

CHARLES ROY—A hard working substitute tackle who saw plenty of service as a reserve linesman in almost every game the Bulldogs played. Charlie is a Junior; this is his second year on the team.

RUSSELL ERGANBRIGHT—Got his chance when Jim Hardin suffered a broken arm in the Male game. Russell took over Jim's position on the left end of the Bulldog line for four games and took care of it in a manner that did him proud.

KENNETH CONLAN—The Bulldogs' blocking back who did a Herculean job of blocking out would-be tacklers and clearing a path for those other flashy, high scoring backs. Kenny who was kept in there until each game was on ice had plenty of life and kept things pepped up throughout each contest.



First Row: Charles Roy, End; Jefferson Streepey, Guard; Ed Welz, Tackle.

BASKETBALL

Even before the Bulldogs had closed their spectacular football season, the basketball team had taken to the court and under the tutelage of Coach Charles A. McConnell, formerly of Princeton, they began the most outstanding season ever enjoyed by a New Albany basketball team. They won sixteen of the nineteen scheduled games, plus the Blind, Sectional, and Regional tournaments. In all the team won twenty-four out of twenty-eight contests.

When Coach McConnell took over the basketball reins at New Albany the Bulldogs style of play was completely changed and instead of playing a slow breaking game as was customary before, the Bulldogs came out with a fast breaking, high scoring offense that literally set their opponents back on their heels. It was the type of game the fans enjoyed and never before in the history of the school did such crowds turn out to witness the Canines perform. In fact all attendance records were broken for the basketball season.

The Bulldogs opened the season on November 27 with a 31-23 victory over Silver Creek. Two weeks later they stopped the highly touted Corydon Panthers 23-18. On the following night, however, North Vernon's mighty team invaded the Bulldog camp and administered to us our first defeat, 19-15.

After this setback the boys seemed to pull themselves together and won nine straight games, including the Blind Tournament.

Then came the most unpleasant week-end of the season, when the Locals lost to Mitchell and Central of Evansville on consecutive nights.

These defeats faded into the background, however, as the team started this second sustained winning streak which included fourteen straight games and carried them up to the District Tournament.

The Bulldogs again played host to the Sectional Tournament which they won with little effort. Jeffersonville was met in the first round when the locals avenged three previous tournament defeats with a sparkling 23-12 victory. After defeating Jeffersonville the boys breezed through, beating New Middletown, Georgetown, and Corydon by overwhelming scores.

At Mitchell the Brownstown Bears and Paoli Ramblers fell victims to the Bulldogs terrific onslaught, and for the first time in the history of the school a New Albany team won the Regional Tournament.

Their march to the State finals was halted on the next Saturday afternoon, however, when Central of Evansville defeated the Bulldogs 25-24 in a bristling battle that was not decided until the last gun was fired. And thus the curtain was run down on the greatest basketball team ever developed at Senior High.

Again Coach Alex Thom came through with a winning track team and it is beginning to seem as if it were a habit with him, for in the past three years New Albany track and field representatives have lost only one meet, that being a closely contested one that slipped away to the highly touted Male High outfit from Louisville.

The 1935 edition opened the season with a 74-22-21 victory over Salem and Corydon in a triangular meet. The next weekend the boys went up to Vincennes and grabbed second place in the first annual Southern Indiana Athletic Conference meet. And then Bedford fell before the Bulldog thinlies lines 97-12.

After these brilliant showings the Bulldogs met their match in Male High and were nosed out 57-52. The Locals garnered 70 points to win the Sectional meet and on the following Saturday the mile relay team composed of McWilliams, Day, Weber, and Reisert took third place in the state meet to close the season.

The team was made up of the following boys: John Wrege who was high point man with 60 points, Durbin, McWilliams, Donahoe, Reisert, Beck, Wagoner, Markwell, Hubbard, Brewer, Ferd Wrege, Bertrand, Schuler, Perkins, Day, Weber, Roy, Roberson.

FAREWELL

Entranced by the reflected past,
We've lingered by the stream,
While on its glimmery surface
Fades out the last soft gleam.
Reluctant now we turn away
To face the years that lie,
Mere specks, on the dim horizon
Of a blue expanse of sky.
But each year as it passes
Will its clear reflection cast
Into the pool 'til the future
Is commingled with the past.
